About AnnaHiking

In 1991 we visited Greece for the first time. Our love for the country, the culture, the climate, the food, the language and the Greek has grown ever since. We feel at home here and want to communicate this feeling to others.

Many people are familiar with the Greek “islands with beautiful beaches”. Many islands also boast a splendid inland with historical paths, ideal for hiking. Corfu is such an island with much more on offer than beaches alone, and we’d love to introduce it to you.

This trip is organized by Aperghi Travel, Greek colleagues on Corfu. They check and maintain the paths, arrange the (luggage) transfers and the on-site support. As self-guided hiker they’ll provide you with the route descriptions and all other necessary information.

The tour location

General information about the tour and the Corfu Trail

The Corfu climate is soft in winter and hot in summer, that’s why we don’t offer the tour in July and August. In spring (May, June) there are lots of flowers in bloom and September and October are still lovely months for hiking.

The total length of the Corfu Trail is more than 200 kilometers, running from the southernmost to the northernmost tip of Corfu in 11 stages; this tour takes in 6 of the stages. The trail is generally well marked. It was designed by Hillary Whitton-Paipeti who came to Corfu in 1981. She collected a group of hiking enthusiasts and together they started the Corfu Trail.

The walks in this tour partly follow this Corfu Trail. The daily stages take between 3½ and 5 hours net walking time (excluding the breaks). The terrain alternates between rough footpaths, cobbled mule paths (kalderimia), gravel roads and tracks, minor roads and beaches. Generally the route is well marked. You’ll walk along mountain slopes and summits, through olive groves, taking in typically Corfiotic villages in the north of Corfu.

We advise you to arrive well trained and fit with well worn-in and ankle-high hiking boots. Thus you’ll get more pleasure out of your hiking holiday.

It's a tour for people who are curious to the nature and hinterland of a well-known holiday island and for whom the complete Corfu Trail may be just a bit too much.

Modular set-up: extensions/alterations

You may extend your stay in every accommodation for rest or beach days.

Prior to or subsequent to the tour you may spend some days in Corfu Town with its historic center. Using public transportation you may visit all parts of the island.

Apart from this 8-day arrangement we have three other arrangements on Corfu:

- Corfu Trail complete in 15 days (tour code IKWT312I).
- Corfu Trail selection in 8 days (tour code IKWT322I).

The arrangement may also be extended with one of our programs in the North or South Pindos. We'll gladly help you with the logistics.

Of course you may combine the tour with one of our other arrangements in Greece.

For all your wishes: ask for an estimate!

About the Ionian Islands and Corfu/Kerkyra

The Ionian Islands are located on the west side of the Greek mainland in the Ionian Sea. They are greener than most Greek islands. In Greek they are called 'eptánisa', 'seven islands', because there are 7 larger islands: Corfu, Lefkas (Lefkada), Ithaka, Kefalonia, Paxi or Paxos, Zakynthos and –strangely enough- Kythira which is located south of the Peloponnese. Besides there are some smaller (inhabited) islands like Antipaxos and Meganisi. Apart from Lefkada they have not been ruled by the Turks, but by the Venetians (14th-18th century) and English (1815-1864) who protected the islands from the Ottomans (Turks).

The Venetians imported specific dishes like bourdetto (meat or fish in spicy red sauce), patsisada (veal or chicken with pasta and wine sauce). The British provide the cricket field in Corfu town, which is still in use.

Corfu island (or Kerkyra as the Greek call it) is the most northern Greek island in the Ionian Sea. Part of it is situated next to the Albanian coast and so there are also ferries and excursion boats to Sarande and Dürres in Albania. The island is very green, because of heavy rainfall, mostly in winter.

Since the Venetian time olives formed an important means of income. Depending on the source you consult there are 6 to 10 million olive trees, which are also particularly high. In autumn everywhere in the olive groves you'll see the nets which are used to harvest the olives. Nowadays the olive groves decline in importance or are being used as building grounds for villas and holiday residences.

Another local product is the kumquat, a small citrus fruit, which is conserved and used for a lovely liqueur.

Some other rather striking differences with other Greek islands, due to other rulers in history: lots of cypress trees (the Turks imagined these to bring bad luck and had them cut down elsewhere) and hardly any blue-white painted houses (Greek did that in other parts because the Turks did not allow them to use their blue-white flag).

Tourist attractions are the fortress in Corfu Town and the Achilleion, the palace of the Austrian empress Elisabeth “Sissi”. Corfu Town is UNESCO protected inheritance.

overnight stay: Liapades

Day 2: The West Coast and Olive Way (CM-02)

From Liapades villages old paths will take you high above the coast and along some stunning beaches, inviting you for a swim stop. overnight stay: Liapades

Day 3: The Roman Way from Liapades to Agios Georgios (CT-07)

The walk starts with a sharply ascending footpath which immediately brings you high above sea level towards Paleokastritsa. You quickly cross the main road and head into the hills again, using a network of lovely cobbled footpaths. A climb of about an hour takes you to the centuries old village of Lakones and Bella Vista Viewpoint ('the best view in Europe').

One kilometre of unavoidable and sometimes busy road here, to cross the village, but the spectacular views make up for it! The Trail then heads across olive groves to Krini (from here you can opt to visit the Byzantine castle Angelokastro), through 'Lily Valley' and on down one of Greece's most remarkable footpaths, the Roman Way, which zigzags down a sheer cliff. The way continues down an olive grove track and along the seashore to the resort of Agios Georgios.

walking time/distance: 4h30' / 13.5km (Angelokastro: +1km one way)

ascent/descent: 350m (Angelokastro: +150m)

overnight stay: Agios Georgios Pagon

Day 4: Circular walk Afionas and the Double Bay of Porto Timoni (CM-04)

From Agios Georgios it's a steep climb up to the beautiful village of Afionas, with its olive oil shops, narrow alleys and beautiful views. On a footpath, you descend steeply towards the sea below, where the peninsula is so thin that you can choose on which side to swim! The path continues a bit further up the peninsula to the chapel-like cave of Agios Stylianos.

You return by a direct footpath and road from Afionas' village back to Agios Georgios.

walking time/distance: 3h30' / 9.6km

ascent/descent: 350m

overnight stay: Agios Georgios Pagon

Day 5: Circular walk Aspiotades (CM-05)

From Agios Georgios you follow a stretch of the Corfu Trail up to the villages of Prinilas and Paghi. Descending into a fertile valley, the path climbs back to the road in Aspiotades. From here the route leaves the Trail and turns back through agricultural landscape to the coast at Agios Georgios.

walking time/distance: 4h / 12.3km
 ascent/descent: 400m
 overnight stay: Agios Georgios Pagon

Day 6: From Kalami along the Erimitis Peninsula to Kassiopi (CM-06)

From there you walk the beautiful Erimitis natural area and coastline to Kassiopi, threatened by development plans. You'll have lots of swimming opportunities along the way! At the end you can visit the village of Kassiopi with the Byzantine castle above the town. From the village of Kassiopi you take a local bus back to the main road above Kalami. (Not included, approx. 2.80 euro pp).

walking time/distance: 3h30' / 10.7km
 ascent/descent: 300m

Day 7: The Northeast coast and mountain flanks (CT11)

This is a circular walk which starts and finishes at Kalamí, exploring the Northeast of the island.
